

Commonwealth of Australia electronic APS Employment Gazette

PS31 - 09 Aug 2007 Published by Commonwealth of Australia

The electronic APS Employment Gazette (Gazette) contains notification of certain employment decisions required to be gazetted under the Public Service Act 1999 and subordinate legislation. Notices include employment opportunities and the outcomes (including staff movements, engagements and promotions).

The Gazette may also contain employment opportunities available in the Australian Parliamentary Service, including movements made under the Parliamentary Service Act 1999. As well, it may contain employment opportunities available in non-APS Australian Government agencies.

The date of publication of this Gazette is PS31 - 09 Aug 2007. This date is to be used to determine prescribed days in relation to promotions and movements notified in this issue of the Gazette and related review periods and dates of effect.

Reviewing Promotion Decisions

The office of the Merit Protection Commissioner is an independent office within the Australian Public Service Commission. An important part of the Commissioner's role is to provide a fair system for review of decisions for all APS employees. Ongoing APS and Parliamentary Service employees, who are unsuccessful applicants for promotion, may apply to the Merit Protection Commissioner to have the promotion decision reviewed by a Promotion Review Committee. Successful applicants whose promotion has not taken effect can also apply for a promotion review.

A promotion review can only be conducted for promotions to APS Level 2 to APS Level 6 (or equivalent) classifications.

Promotion decisions cannot be reviewed if they are based on the recommendation of either a previous Promotion Review Committee or an Independent Selection Advisory Committee.

The Promotion Review Committee cannot review promotions to jobs at the Executive Level 1 and Executive Level 2 (or higher) classifications.

Unsuccessful applicants for promotion to these levels may raise concerns about the handling of the selection process with the relevant agency in the first instance.

How to lodge a promotion review application

Applications for review of promotion or engagement decisions notified in the Gazette must be made in writing and must be received by the Merit Protection Commissioner at the address relevant to the application for review by 5pm on the 14th day after the date of notification of the promotion in the Gazette. Applications may be lodged by submitting a form on the Merit Protection Commissioners website, mail, email, facsimile or hand delivered. Relevant addresses for lodging applications are set out below.

Applications for review of decisions not lodged at the relevant address by the prescribed time will, as a rule, be considered to be out of time and will not be accepted.

If you have any queries about the closing date for applications you can contact the relevant Commission office.

Classifications:	APS Level 5
Position No:	9256 & 8935

Job Description

Duties

The work covers a wide range of Customs corporate IT support functions, and involves liaison throughout Customs and with external agencies and industry. The occupant needs to be flexible, able to manage priorities and work with minimal supervision. The role is based in Canberra, and the occupant is required to meet and maintain the requirements to obtain a Customs security clearance level of "Protected".

About Australian Customs Service

Customs role is to facilitate trade and the movement of people across Australia's borders, while protecting the Australian community, maintaining compliance with Australian law, collecting revenue and administering industry schemes and trade measures. This range of activities creates a diverse and ever-changing work environment.

There are four methods of entry into Customs – as a Trainee, a Graduate Trainee, as part of the National Indigenous Cadetship Project, or above base general recruitment.

Customs offers flexible, family-friendly working conditions, attractive remuneration packages and access to a range of employment opportunities. Customs is seeking adaptable, client-focused, goal-oriented and self-motivated people with high standards of integrity and professionalism, who are committed to change management.

Applicants are selected for advertised vacancies on the basis of merit, as assessed against specific selection criteria. It is in the interests of applicants to address these criteria comprehensively and succinctly.

Applicants who are of Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander descent, come from non-English speaking backgrounds or have disabilities may wish to indicate this in their applications so that appropriate testing and interview arrangements can be made. All applicants must be prepared to take part in selection processes that might include behavioural, psychometric, aptitude and attitudinal testing in addition to the interview process.

Applicants should be aware that Customs positions require the occupant to be an Australian citizen (or have proof of application for Australian citizenship) and to meet the required security and medical standard prior to commencement.

Job Title:	Compliance Officer
JobType:	Ongoing
Location:	Mascot NSW
Salary:	$49,875 - $58,596
Classifications:	APS Level 5
Position No:	Several Positions

Job Description

Duties

Customs plays a vital role in preventing the illegal movement of people and harmful goods across Australia's border. In performing our role, we work closely with a range of agencies. Together we are called on to provide a sense of security to the community, supporting the continuation of the Australian lifestyle.

The Compliance Division ensures the accurate and timely reporting of cargo and the correct payment of Government revenue, as required by Customs legislation. This work involves close engagement with industry and other stakeholders. Compliance Officers work under the supervision of a Senior Compliance Officer. They undertake a range of activities that improve compliance with the laws and regulations that apply to import and export cargo. These activities include: Monitoring the movement of cargo through the import or export process; Intervening in the movement of import or export cargo, in order to check the accuracy of reports and declaration made to Customs; Reviewing previous import or export transactions, by auditing clients' documents; and Promoting compliance through education and other assistance to industry. Compliance Officers must: Communicate well, both orally and in writing; Have a good eye for numbers and detail; Be able to concentrate; Enjoy working in a happy and supportive team environment; Be self-motivated and committed to their work; and Develop an excellent understanding of both the cargo industry and relevant Customs legislation.

Experience in the cargo industry or Customs work would be an advantage, but Customs provides substantial training and development opportunities. Compliance work is not the most high profile or dramatic type of work within Customs, but it can be very satisfying, as it makes a significant contribution to community protection and can uncover major revenue frauds. It can also lead to other roles in Customs, such as intelligence or investigations.

Job Title:	Regulatory Coordinator
JobType:	Ongoing
Location:	Melbourne VIC
Salary:	$49,186 - $55,250
Classifications:	APS 4 - (AUSTRAC Broadband 1)

Job Description

Duties

AUSTRAC is Australia's anti-money laundering regulator and specialist financial intelligence unit. In our regulatory role AUSTRAC oversees compliance with the requirements of the Financial Transactions Report Act 1988 (FTR Act) and the Anti-Money Laundering and Counter Terrorism Financing Act 2006 (AML/CTF Act). The Domestic Relations team's primary role is to implement high quality education and training to external stakeholders, regulated entities, including the financial and gaming industries and associated professional services.

This role is an opportunity to be involved with AUSTRAC's regulated entities to assist their understanding of the AML/CTF Act. Knowledge of the financial and gaming industries would be an advantage.

Under limited supervision, the Regulatory Co-ordinator is responsible for: Participating in the delivery of a nationwide education program by providing technical and analytical support to senior staff; Liaising with a wide range of stakeholders, including industry, members of the general public and other government agencies; Developing a good understanding of all relevant legislation and gaining relevant industry and private sector knowledge; Involvement in project work which will include research and analysis components; Preparing and drafting professional documentation including formal reports of findings and recommendations for internal and external audiences; Undertaking a range of computer based functions in relation to the collection of information and maintenance of AUSTRAC's databases. Domestic travel will be required as part of this role and applicants must be able to work away from the office.

Eligibility

All positions are security assessed and the successful applicants will be required to undergo a security assessment and maintain an ongoing security clearance. To be eligible for assessment, applicants must be Australian citizens.

About Family Court of Australia

The Family Court of Australia (the Court) through its specialised Judges and staff, helps Australians to resolve their most complex family disputes.

The Court's goal is to deliver excellence in service for children, families and parties through effective judicial and non-judicial process, high quality and timely judgements, and respecting the needs of separating families.

The purpose of the Court, as Australia's superior court in family law, is to:

determine cases with complex law, facts and parties; cover specialised areas in family law, and provide national coverage as the appellate court in family law matters.

The establishment of Family Relationship Centres and the continued work of the Federal Magistrates Court of Australia (FMC) should ensure that the Court can increasingly focus on the determination of the most complex family law cases, including hearing of appeals. To achieve this, the Court provides a range of services, integrated within a case management environment, and encompassing:

information about family law and Court Services; judicial determination of litigated matters; and dispute resolution services (mediation).

Job Description

Duties

Applicants must quote AF/25116. Air Force International Engagement (IE-AF) provides strategic policy and planning advice on Air Force engagement with foreign Services to Royal Australian Air Force (RAAF) senior appointments. IE-AF is responsible for both policy development and management of RAAF relations with foreign forces. This is achieved through the provision of training to foreign personnel in Australia, RAAF personnel attachments and exchanges overseas, and the management of Defence Cooperation projects and training. Bilateral Air Force to Air Force Talks, visits by personnel from foreign air forces and engagement related visits are also coordinated by the section.

This position focuses on utilising training as a strategic engagement tool through the management of RAAF Foreign Training. Additionally, this position is responsible for Air Force engagement with those countries with whom contact is limited to the training environment.

The incumbent will be dealing with complex policy issues that need to be communicated in a clear and understandable manner whilst managing stakeholder expectations.

The successful applicant will be required to show initiative by identifying new areas of cooperation for Air Force's international relationships, forming independent views on possible approaches, being able to argue the benefits (or otherwise) of any option and presenting a convincing case for a preferred recommendation.

Salary:	$50,533 - $69,985
Classifications:	APS Level 4
Position No:	WPA4507-CR
Agency Website:	http://www.workplaceauthority.gov.au/

Job Description

Duties

The Workplace Authority is the central point of contact for free advice and information on Australia's workplace relations system for employees and employers. The Workplace Authority also accepts lodgements of agreements and assesses whether they pass the Fairness Test. With a high performance culture, commitment to continuous learning and a focus on superior customer service, the Workplace Authority is a challenging and rewarding environment to grow your career.

An exciting opportunity exists for a motivated Workplace Relations Advisor. In this role you will provide the full range of Client Relations activities, including providing education, assistance and advice to employees, employers and organisations in relation to their rights and obligations under the Workplace Relations Act.

Your specific responsibilities will include:

* Promoting and representing the Workplace Authority, its services and products through targeted activities, including presentations to medium and large sized groups. * Providing one-on-one advice and assistance to employers and employees. * Developing mutually beneficial external relationships. * Undertaking pre-lodgement reviews of workplace agreements to determine if they meet the Fairness Test. * Involvement in the development of a range of products and services to assist employers and employees with agreement making. * Working closely with the Client Relations Managers, as required, to lead employees in undertaking the duties of the team.

Eligibility

You will have demonstrated superior communication skills, a comprehensive understanding of workplace relations and economic environments, demonstrated ability to manage conflict, problem solving and leadership skills. Tertiary qualifications or equivalent experience in law, industrial relations, Human Resource Management or a related field, and a current driver's licence are desirable.

As the team manager you will be responsible for a broad range of people management, financial, planning, negotiation and representational duties. The ORER administers the Australian Government's Mandatory Renewable Energy Target. The Office is located within the Australian Government's Environment and Water Resources portfolio and is a prescribed agency under the Financial Management and Accountability Act 1997.

About Environment and Water Resources

The Department of the Environment and Water Resources is the Commonwealth Government's major environment agency, and is responsible for achieving the government's environmental objectives, domestically and internationally.

The Department of The Environment and Water Resources is an Equal Opportunity Employer. Applicants who are of Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander descent, come from non-English speaking backgrounds or have a disability may wish to indicate this in their application so that the selection advisory committee can be appropriately structured. We are looking for highly qualified/experienced people who are interested in working in a dynamic organisation that offers a challenging work environment and excellent opportunities for development and advancement.

Applications will not be acknowledged on receipt. Only shortlisted applicants will be contacted regarding the next phase in the selection process. To those applicants who are not shortlisted, we extend our thanks for considering the department as a potential employer.

We have a number of unique opportunities to provide policy advice associated with new technologies and the governance of agencies that regulate these issues. These positions range from leadership, policy development, governance, program management, secretariat support, and executive support.

You will be someone who enjoys problem solving by building and utilising strong relationships with central agencies and a range of professionals.

You may be involved in advising ministers on the operational and power structures of health agencies or providing policy advice on the regulation of therapeutic products. You will be part of a team that drives innovation and helps to shape the future of Australia's research and development capability.

As a member of a team you will assist in the preparation of advice and briefings. Further, you will be required to liaise with line areas in other Divisions of the Department and portfolio agencies and provide some administrative and secretariat support to the section.

About Department of Health and Ageing

The Department of Health and Ageing is focussed on achieving better health and active ageing for Australians. We need capable and motivated people working with us to make this happen. If you want to join our team, and can meet our job requirements, we invite you to apply for a position with us to build better health, better care and a better life for all Australians. Our selection process is now much simpler. The first step is a written application stating how you meet our core capabilities. If you are short listed, the final step is an interview including a short work sample test. Further information and application forms are available in our Application Kit, available online <http://www.health.gov.au> or by phoning the contact person for the job. Hearing or speech impaired applicants can obtain the election documents from the Department's TTY number (02) 6289 5945. We welcome applications from Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people and people from diverse backgrounds.

FSANZ

Scientific Risk Assessment Branch, Food Composition, Evaluation & Modelling Section

Job Title:	Assistant Section Manager
JobType:	Ongoing
Location:	Barton ACT
Salary:	$89,281 - $106,159
Classifications:	Executive Level 2
Position No:	10144

Job Description

Duties

Provide strategic direction and technical support to small teams of professionals involved in dietary exposure assessments and nutrient monitoring programs in a food regulatory environment.

The job holder will have responsibility for providing professional and technical support to three areas of work within the Food Composition, Evaluation and Modelling Section (i) Dietary exposure assessments (ii) National food composition program and (iii) Nutrient monitoring programs. The latter involves the development, implementation and reporting on elements of an ongoing monitoring program for which FSANZ has overall responsibility for (i) nutrients permitted to be added as fortificants to the food supply (ii) Trans fatty acids in the food supply.

The person will be a professional with demonstrated highly developed analytical and liaison skills and have the ability to apply these effectively in a regulatory capacity.

Eligibility

Appropriate tertiary qualifications. A degree or diploma from an Australian or New Zealand tertiary institution, or a comparable overseas qualification, preferably at Honours level or higher in nutrition, epidemiology or other relevant scientific disciplines, or social science with experience in food regulation considered an advantage for this position.

About Food Standards Australia New Zealand

Food Standards Australia New Zealand (FSANZ) is an independent, bi-national government agency that sets regulations for the manufacture and sale of food in Australia and New Zealand. These regulations take the form of food standards in the Australia New Zealand Food Standards Code. We use sophisticated, science-based risk assessment and risk management techniques to evaluate possible changes to the Code.

Our staff work in an inclusive, transparent, professional and committed environment, with a service culture. In return, we offer outstanding terms and conditions and opportunities for professional development.

Successful applicants may be required to undertake a police check, medical clearance, security clearance and a probationary period of 3 months.

Job Description

Duties

This is an identified vacancy in which part or all of the duties involve the development of policy or programs relating to Australian Indigenous people, and/or involve interaction with Indigenous communities, including service delivery. You will need to have an understanding of the issues affecting Indigenous people and an ability to communicate sensitively and effectively with them. As the Indigenous Customer Service Officer you will be required to consult and liaise with Indigenous customers to identify and understand individual needs; assist Indigenous peoples to access government programs through Centrelink services and other resources; and actively promote the local geographical and cultural diversities and expectations of Indigenous customers.

About Human Services

The Department of Human Services was established in October 2004 to improve the development and delivery of government services in the health and welfare sectors.

The Department oversees six diverse agencies that, in total, administer payments over $80 billion each year. These agencies are: Centrelink, Medicare Australia (formerly known as Health Insurance Commission), Child Support Agency, Health Services Australia, CRS Australia (formerly known as Commonwealth Rehabilitation Service), and Australian Hearing.

The Department plays a crucial role in the effective and efficient implementation of government initiatives.

This position requires a combination of personal characteristics, experience, skills, and commitment to ensure that ethical and high quality operational and clinical supervision is provided for Centrelink Professionals. The supervision process is designed to ensure that the professional service provided to Jobseekers is of the highest quality.

This is achieved by:

- assisting Centrelink Professionals to apply their professional knowledge and skills in their current work environment, and to develop a level of mastery in this area;
- addressing any concerns Centrelink Professionals may have;
- supporting the professional development of Centrelink Professionals in ways that will increase or enhance their effectiveness;
- assisting Centrelink Professionals to maintain professional standards and ethical behaviours; and
- providing Intern Psychologists experience in and instruction about the practice of the profession of Psychology, standards of conduct, and to ensure they meet the requirements for full registration (this provision relates to Senior Psychologists only).

The successful applicant would also be expected to complete a range of important operational duties such as:

- managing the day-to-day operations of their team, including workload and resource management;
- effectively monitoring team and individual staff performance;
- initiating and maintaining relationships with internal and external stakeholders;
- conducting assessments of Job Seekers with diverse and complex psychological and physical barriers to employment; and
- delivering a range of brief interventions to Job Seekers such as Cognitive Behaviour Therapy, Motivational Interviewing, Pain Management, and Social Case Work (please note expectations in relation to the delivery of brief interventions will align with the successful applicants professional background and expertise).

Eligibility

Senior Psychologists must be fully registered with the Psychologists Board of Queensland and have demonstrated experience practicing in the field of Psychology. Senior Psychologists who also have STAP accreditation will be highly regarded. Further, membership or eligibility for membership of the Australian Psychological Society is required.

About Human Services

The Department of Human Services was established in October 2004 to improve the development and delivery of government services in the health and welfare sectors.

The Department oversees six diverse agencies that, in total, administer payments over $80 billion each year. These agencies are: Centrelink, Medicare Australia (formerly known as Health Insurance Commission), Child Support Agency, Health Services Australia, CRS Australia (formerly known as Commonwealth Rehabilitation Service), and Australian Hearing.

The Department plays a crucial role in the effective and efficient implementation of government initiatives.

About Child Support Agency

The Child Support Agency (CSA) plays a crucial role in supporting separated families. As part of the Department of Human Services, CSA supports separated parents to provide financial support for their children. We calculate payments, and collect and transfer them between parents. We also help separated parents and their children through a range of self-help tools and active referrals to Government and community support services. Our Vision - Children can rely on their parents for the financial and emotional support necessary for their well being. Our Mission - To support separated parents to transfer payments for the benefit of their children. Our Goals - Improved collection - More money for more kids; Customer service excellence - Transform our customers' experience; Effective stakeholder relations and engagement - From consultation to engagement; Informed customers and community - Aware and knowledgeable customers; Excellence in service delivery capability - Our foundation for a better CSA. CSA offers challenging work that really makes a difference to the lives of many Australian families. Recognised internationally as the 'world's best' in child support services, CSA provides an opportunity to be part of an award winning team in the delivery of customer service in a sensitive and complex environment. CSA prides itself on offering career advancement opportunities, ongoing training and excellent working conditions as part of the Australian Public Service. CSA aims to treat all applicants fairly and ensure they have equal access to employment opportunities. Our website www.csa.gov.au has further information about employment in CSA and how to apply for vacancies. Applications must be received by the close of business on the closing date indicated, unless alternative arrangements have been made. Applicants should note that all positions are subject to Australian citizenship requirements, character/security checks, health clearance and, if applicable, formal qualifications. A probationary period will apply to successful applicants who are not already ongoing APS employees. CSA may use a recruitment agency to assist us in our recruitment of new staff.

Job Description

Duties

We are an organisation offering challenging and diverse careers in a high profile and complex environment. We are committed to ensuring Australia has the best possible services in immigration, border protection, citizenship and multicultural affairs.

The ACT and Regions Office's area of responsibility covers the ACT plus the portion of NSW south of a line from below Nowra on the coast to the South Australian border south of Broken Hill. We cover the NSW south coast, snowfields, major population centres like Wagga Wagga, Albury and Griffith, and the fruit picking areas around Young, Batlow, Tumbarumba, Cooma and Bega – a large and dispersed population spread over 200,000 square kilometres in around 60 rural areas.

The ACT & Regions Office comprises approximately 90 employees located in Canberra. The structure of the Office comprises a Senior Executive Level Territory Director and a Deputy Territory Director responsible for the following programs:

- * Client Services
- * Business and Regional Partnerships
- * Compliance and Borders
- * Community Engagement and Multicultural Affairs
- * Ministerial Intervention Unit
- * Corporate Services

We are looking for people to join us to help build an organisation that is open, client focussed and which supports our staff to achieve excellence.

Eligibility

These are designated security assessed positions. The successful applicants will be required to undergo a security clearance. Late applications will not be considered.

Salary:	$60,824 - $69,587
Classifications:	APS Level 6
Position No:	V07/144
Agency Website:	http://www.dotars.gov.au/

Job Description

Duties

The Office of Transport Security is a business division within the department. The division provides policy advice to the Australian Government on transport security matters and has responsibility for aviation, maritime and offshore oil and gas security regulation, programmes and services. Additionally, the office works closely with other governments to deliver transport security outcomes.

OTS is seeking to recruit a high calibre person with strong analytical and written skills to assist in the implantation of government initiatives in transport security as an Intelligence Analyst.

The successful applicant will develop transport security expertise across the maritime, aviation and land transport modes and contribute to the understanding of the nature and level of transport security threats generally, including those for related critical infrastructure.

The successful candidate will ideally have strong conceptual and research skills; strong oral and written communication skills; knowledge of the international and national security environment; and tertiary qualifications in related fields.

The role will involve liaising extensively with Commonwealth Government agencies, state and territory government agencies and industry participants; undertaking research and analysis of transport security related information; and providing timely advice to various customers about transport security threats and risks.

All candidates will also be required to demonstrate high levels of personal integrity, judgement and professionalism.

Eligibility

To be eligible for engagement, applicants will require a national security assessment to the level of TOP SECRET and must be Australian Citizens. Conditions of service are covered by the DOTARS Collective Agreement 2006-2009.
